User Reviews

"... Another vote for the Paperwhite. It's brilliant! Reading in the dark doesn't strain my eyes because of the backlight." /u/ deniably

"As everyone else has said, if all you want to do is read, get a Paperwhite. It's the best e-reader on the market. I've had one for a bit more than a year and absolutely love it." /u/ admiraljohn

Fire HD

Too expensive?

Get a basic Kindle ($69) or a generic e-reader.
Note: the basic Kindle is not well suited to reading in low-light.

Want a bigger screen?

Get a Kobo Aura HD.

Read many graphic novels, manga, comic books or PDFs?

From my research, users aren't super positive on the Kindle Fire line. Instead, the recommendation is to get a generic tablet, like those I mentioned, and simply download the Kindle App.

Want to play games and check Facebook in-between books?

Get an iPad or Nexus 7. Unfortunately the Kindle Fire line isn't spectacularly good.
